A DIFFERENT WORLD

Somewhere on the Internet... there is a mirrored version of country that you live in. You see fellow citizens living their lives: they train, go to work, meet with friends, gain some experience, and explore their career paths.

Some of them are becoming businessman, others politicians and some other are turning into soldiers fighting in the name of homeland. There is also a bunch of powerful people, who change world economy, create governments, and decide on war and peace.

Welcome in e-Sim. A browser strategy game, which simulates real world. The game is played by 30 000 of people in 155 countries.

Wars

- ▶ In e-Sim regular battles, civil wars or even world wars are commonplace. Players can join military units or create new ones. Together they set a military strategy, make alliances, and conquer other countries.

Virtual economy

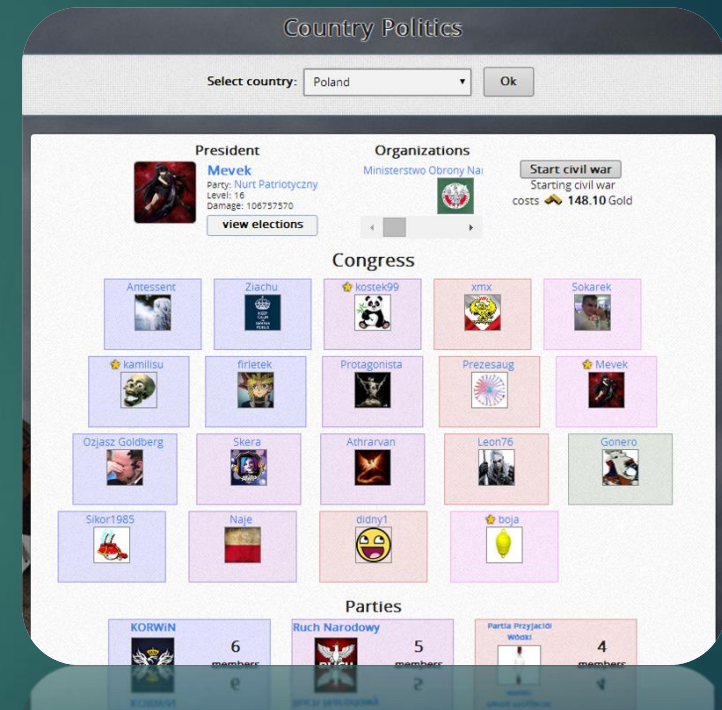

- ▶ Players are able to build a company with real workers, transform it into joint stock companies, produce and sell items on auction or play the virtual market.

The screenshot shows a virtual stock market interface for a company named "Golden Guns". The interface is divided into several sections:

- Company Header: "Stock company" title, "Golden Guns" logo, and a list of actions: "MM offers", "Product offers", "Donate money", "Donate company", and "Logs".
- Company Information: "Golden Guns" details including "Nationality: USA", "Total Shares: 1050", "Estimated value: 9780.37 Gold", "Estimated value per share: 9.31 Gold", "Daily shares trade value: 15.71 Gold", "Total shareholders: 33", and "Total companies: 8".
- Moderator options: "Remove products from storage", "Remove money from storage", and an "Add to index" button.
- Company Statute: A box containing the text: "One question be cause we make money and still we rise to the top".
- Stock price: A line chart showing "Avg. stock price" over time. The chart is titled "Stock price:" and "Day". The y-axis is labeled "Volume" and "Avg. stock price". The x-axis is labeled "Day". The chart shows a price that starts at 543, rises to 554, and then to 565.
- Shares market: A section titled "Shares market:" with a "Buy shares" button and a table for "Offered shares(Ask):". The table has columns for "VOLUME", "PRICE", and "SELLER".

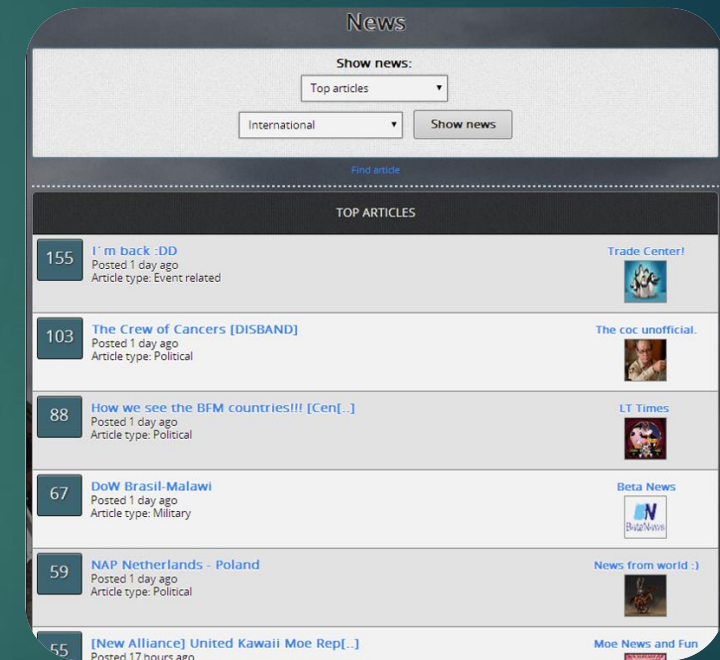

Political background

- ▶ Everyone can get involve in politics. Starting from voter, to congressman to even country president who has the ability to declare wars and introduce an unlimited amount of laws.

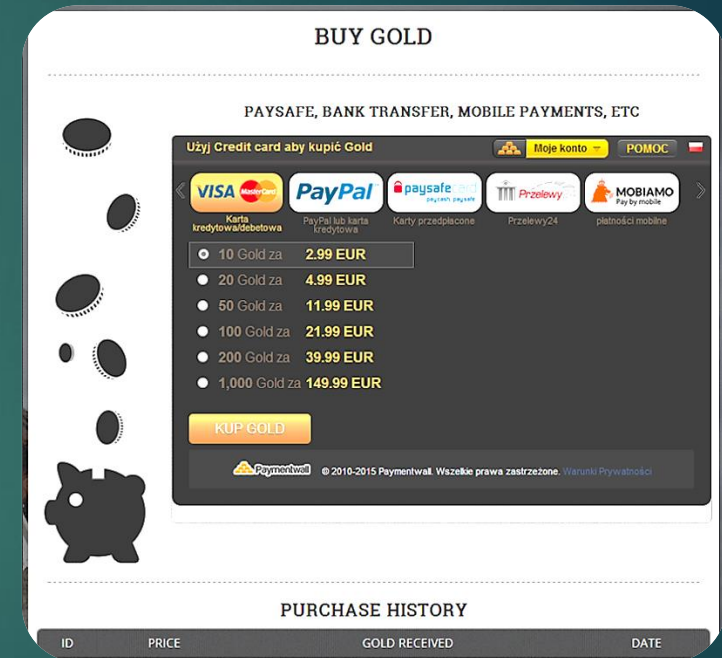

Media run by players

- ▶ Players can share their opinions in self-edited and written newspapers. The fourth estate is an important tool in restoring democratic standards in e-Sim..
